MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

SUBJECT: Ocean Surveillance

1. As I mentioned to you the other day, the staff has been putting considerable effort into Ocean Surveillance, particularly to identify the individual elements in it, their relationship to national and/or tactical intelligence, and the costs. I am attaching a paper which has been put together by [] with contributions from the balance of the staff. I have marked in red what seem to me the more significant points, and the paper as a whole is one that can be leafed through with some speed and still get a good grasp of the ramifications of the program.

2. If, after you have looked through this, you have some questions, I could easily arrange a brief session to discuss it in a little more detail.
